Thomas C. Platt, United States Senator, Appears On The Stand In Divorce Suit.

NEVER ASKED HER TO BE HIS WIFE

Mel Mae Wood In 1901—Paid Ten Thousand To Settle Her First Suit—Was Attended By Two Helpers When He Appeared In Court.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
New York, May 20.—New York's sensation of the hour, the divorce proceedings brought by Mel Mae Wood against the aged and decrepit United States Senator and erstwhile boss of New York state, Thomas C. Platt, was continued this morning when Senator Platt took the stand in his own behalf.

Senator Platt appeared in the courtroom accompanied by two attendants, who kept near him before he went on the stand and while he was giving his testimony. He appeared very much aged and seemed to walk with much difficulty as he came into the courtroom. Nearly seventy-five years of age, Senator Platt stated he was nearly seventy-five, and then stated positively in a firm voice that surprised many who had seen him enter the courtroom with his attendants that he had never even asked Mel Mae Wood to be his wife. He said he had first met her in 1901.

In a ceremony was performed and she exhibits a marriage certificate which she claims was given her by the man who officiated at the service. The suit was started something ago and has dragged through the courts.

SOUTH CAROLINA IS IN FAVOR OF BRYAN

Is Expected That Bryan Will Get the Delegation Since There Is No Opposition.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Columbia, S. C., May 20.—Democrats of South Carolina assembled in State convention here today and were called to order by Gen. Willie Jones, chairman of the State executive committee. The convention will decide upon the eighteen delegates from South Carolina to the Denver convention. Though the sentiment in this state is in favor of William J. Bryan for President, it is not over-enthusiastic, there has been no work in the interest of any other candidate and it is expected that as a matter of course the convention will give the Nebraska leader its endorsement.

Uncle Sam—Get that motto into your system and cheer yourself and others up.

MICHIGAN DIVIDED ON BRYAN QUESTION

Johnson Men Have Been Working Earnestly in That State and With Success.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Lansing, Mich., May 20.—When the democratic state convention was called to order here today to name the delegates-at-large to the national convention, two presidential electors and a new chairman of the state central committee, there was a lively contest in prospect. In no other section of the country, outside of Minnesota, have the Johnson supporters been working more assiduously or with better hopes of success. On the eve of the convention they claimed a clear majority of the delegates. The Bryan element, on the other hand, declares its confidence in the result. But it is evident that if they succeed in getting through Bryan instructions it will be by a very close margin. The Bryan-Johnson alignment of delegates is also observed in the fight that is being made against the reelection of Daniel J. Cavanaugh as the democratic national committeeman from Michigan.

PRESBYTERIANS GATHER FOR GENERAL ASSEMBLY

120th Convocation Of General Assembly Will Convene Tomorrow.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Kansas City, Mo., May 20.—Throughout the day commissioners to the 120th convocation of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian church, which convenes in convention hall at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning, have been coming in, and by tomorrow morning all of those who will attend will be in the city. Many of the delegates from the East came in by special train. Every arrangement for the comfort of the 1,000 commissioners and other visitors has been completed, and the spacious Convention Hall, which commands the admiration of all, is ready for Dr. Roberts, the retiring moderator, to step to the platform and deliver the opening sermon. All the Southern and Southern states will this year for the first time be represented in the assembly, making it truly a national body. One of the first orders of business will be the election of a new moderator to succeed Dr. Roberts. There is a probability of some one from the ranks of the Cumberland ministers being chosen. Several names are being discussed today, among those most prominently mentioned being the Rev. Dr. Benjamin Franklin Patterson of St. Louis. The nominating speeches will be limited to ten minutes, with allowance for only one speech to second the motion, and this not over five minutes. With the union with the Cumberland church effected and the legal matters with respect to the combined ownership of property being adjusted, the latest question to be considered will be as to whether the church shall have an executive or judicial commission with power to settle questions in the interim between meetings of the general assembly, with the moderator as its chairman. The plan goes further and suggests that each synod have an executive commission and that each presbytery have a similar body. It is prophesied that there will be a lively debate on the suggestion, the indications being, it seems, that there are many more opponents than friends of the plan.

In all likelihood the next assembly will be held in Seattle, though there is some talk of holding it in Texas. Seattle seems to have the call, however, and it is generally believed the invitation from that city will be accepted. It is now five years since the assembly met on the Pacific coast.

Southern Presbyterian Assembly.
Greensboro, N. C., May 20.—Everything is in readiness for the meeting of the forty-eighth General Assembly of the Southern Presbyterian Church in the United States, which will be called to order here tomorrow morning. This year the opening sermon will be preached by the retiring moderator, Rev. James R. Howerton, D. D., of Montreal, N. C.

The assembly is the governing body of the Presbyterian Church in the South, the court of final appeal in matters of doctrine. Its work is managed chiefly through executive committees, which are elected each year. These various committees and boards are as follows: Executive committee of foreign missions, executive committee of home missions, executive committee of colored evangelization, executive committee of ministerial relief, trustees of the assembly's home and schools, trustees of the assembly, American Bible Society, permanent committee on Sabbath and superintendent of Sunday schools.

Baptist Anniversaries.
Oklahoma City, Okla., May 20.—The national celebration of the Baptist anniversaries was begun here today, prominent Baptist from all over the country being present.

The various bodies which will hold their annual meetings during the coming eight days include the Northern Baptist assembly, the American Missionary Union, which has charge of the foreign field; the Home Missionary society, Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary societies, Publication society and Historical society. The proposed changes in denominational methods will make the meetings of special interest and far-reaching importance.

ADVANCED POSITION OF BADGER STATE

Wisconsin Congratulated at President's Conference for Preservation of Forests.
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Madison, Wis., May 20.—"I never felt more proud of our state than when attending the great conservation conference in Washington," said Governor Davidson upon his return from the national capital, where he attended the president's conference at the White House. Wisconsin was congratulated upon every hand for the advanced position it has by legislation taken to conserve its great forestry and water power resources. In some things our state has been perhaps too conservative, but in this vitally important matter of preserving the forests Wisconsin stands in the lead of all states. Nor is our need for this so urgent as that of some other and older states, and this fact is all the more creditable to our legislators. The wise legislation of Wisconsin to provide for systematic and self-sustaining forestry work will bring forth returns in coming generations not dreamed of now when the initial investment is being made.

TEAMSTERS WON OUT IN THEIR DEMANDS

Madison Workmen Take Advantage of the City in Demanding More Wages.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., May 20.—Madison teamsters successfully held up the common council for an advance in wages from $1 to $1.50 a day. They made their demand just when the city is entering upon a big season of street improvement work, and the aldermen concluded that it would be useless to resist the demand, as to do so would tie up the work until valuable time was lost and damage entailed. The aldermen are not pleased, however, and consideration is being had of the advisability of the city establishing its own teams and hiring drivers.

PLANS FOR HOME OF WIDE SCOPE

MISSIONARY SCHMIDT TO BUY WOODRUFF FARM.

WILL ESTABLISH COLONY

Means to Have Refuge for the Unfortunates Recently Released from Prisons.

Lorenz Schmidt, formerly an auctioneer in New York city but who is now a missionary, has plans on foot for an industrial home to be established in Janesville, where the work he has been following throughout the country is to be continued on an enlarged scale. Mr. Schmidt will be remembered as the missionary who spoke at the Salvation army hall for a week some ten days ago, preaching sensational sermons on the coming of the end of the world. That he is enthusiastic in his work, that he expects to establish a home here which will be almost national in its scope can be judged from his conversation.

His Plan.
"I intend to establish in Janesville an industrial home for men and women," said Mr. Schmidt this morning. "Tomorrow I will purchase the residence of Mrs. Ann Reed at 109 Pleasant street for an office and headquarters building and within a week I expect that the purchase of the George Woodruff farm will be completed and I will have possession of it. I will then incorporate the Janesville Industrial Home for Men and Women, with a capital stock of $50,000, and actually begin my work. Our inmates will come from Chicago and from the penitentiaries and prisons. They will range in ages from fifteen to forty. They will be men and women, regardless of color or religious denomination.

Self-Supporting.
"These people will be taught to be self-supporting. They will work in the fields, they will cook, they will wash and will labor to the best of their ability. They will be given two to three years' education and each must work five hours a day for their home, lodging, food and clothes. No tramps will be accepted as inmates, they will be persons who come to us thoroughly converted, people from Chicago, from the prisons, men and women who have no home to go to and are desirous of doing something for themselves. These people will come to us recommended by those who send them. No prisoner of a penitentiary will be accepted unless they have the recommendations of the authorities and have professed conversion for at least six months previous to their coming to us."

Not a Riff Raff.
Mr. Schmidt stated when asked if it would not bring an undesirable class of citizens into the city: "It will not. It will be a great blessing to the city. These unfortunate people who come here will be aided both spiritually and mentally. They will be clothed and fed and taught to regain their lost position in the world. They must work for a living. They will do what work they can. One will cook, one will wash dishes, one will work in the field. Some will be sent from the home to do work about the city. If desired, others will sew and we expect to grow the majority of our food on the farm we shall purchase. Tramps will not be permitted on the grounds. They will come to the office on Pleasant street. Here if they will work six hours they will be given supper, a night's lodging and breakfast. Those who will not work will receive nothing."

The Money.
When it was suggested that Mr. Schmidt was a missionary and that the purchase price of the Woodruff farm was a heavy claim, he replied: "God sent me to Janesville. God has provided me with means to buy this property. Men, good men, interested in my work have provided me with means to begin this work here. They live in New York, in Chicago and in Ohio. I have started other homes in the east but none so large as I purpose to start here. Tomorrow I shall buy the Woodruff farm. If Mrs. Reed is willing to sell. Next week I shall pay cash for the Woodruff farm of one hundred and forty-three acres. Mr. Woodruff donated five thousand dollars of the price he held at formerly, $30,000, and also in to give some dishes and furniture if we use it for the work I announce."

Other Works.
Mr. Schmidt shows clippings from Albany, Syracuse and other New York state papers showing that he has begun similar works there. He says of himself that he was an auctioneer in New York city making a large salary daily when the call came for him to take up the Lord's work and he gave it up. He says that for ten years he has followed the teachings of the Bible and that his work he proposes to start here is in accordance with the texts found in Matthew 10:7-24 and Acts 2:42-47. This morning Mr. Schmidt talked with Mayor Hendrick over his plan and asked permission to speak on Sunday next to the citizens of Janesville to explain his plan. Mayor Hendrick will give him an answer tomorrow and if he is granted permission Mr. Schmidt will speak at ten, two and 7:30.

Plans Specific.
Mr. Schmidt talks with understanding regarding his work. He has thought out all obstacles that may arise. He firmly believes that at the opening fifty to a hundred men and women will avail themselves of the offer of a home. Inside a year he thinks that the little colony will have totaled two to five hundred. "They will be coming and going," he said in speaking of it. "None will remain very long but they will be better fitted for their life work when they leave. I want to tell the people of Janesville my plans. When the company is incorporated subscriptions will be received. When we have the property bought and paid for I will ask donations. Then some local men will be the treasurer, one will not receive a cent for his work, neither will the doctors or trained nurses who will be in attendance."

All Free.
"Except for the labor required there will be no fee for the home for the food or the clothing or care of sick persons. A physician and two trained nurses will be at the home all the time. It is a work of God we purpose following out and I want the people of Janesville to understand it." Mr. Schmidt is a man of small stature. He is slightly bald, talks fluently and quotes from the bible with a rapidity that is often startling. He believes in the seventh day being the Sabbath, objects to photographs or pictures as contrary to bible teaching and thinks the food of the hog unclean, he is not narrow and his life, before he became converted was evidently that of a man of the world.

A TOWN BOOMING TRAIN.

Wouldn't $30,000 Worth of Newspaper Space Have Been Better?

Recently 117 business men of Tulsa, Okla., made a grand tour of the east in a special train, the object being to advertise the attractions and commercial advantages of Tulsa to the general public. The train carried a brass band and a printing outfit, dispensing music everywhere and publishing a daily paper for free distribution along with the music. The paper told of Tulsa's greatness. In half a dozen or more of the big cities, including New York, the Tulsans stopped several days to spread the gospel of publicity. The novelty of the town booming idea attracted considerable attention.

Not every small city, of course, contains enough business men who are willing to contribute their time and money for such a publicity proposition. It is understood that each of the Tulsa men paid his own way, the cost to him being about $250. No doubt most of the men enjoyed the trip and gained ideas for future profit to their own business as well as to their town. But there is another side to the story, which is pointed out in an editorial on the subject in the Editor and Publisher of New York:

"The committee having in charge the Tulsa advertising expedition estimates that the cost of the trip will be about $30,000. If this amount had been spent in legitimate and intelligent advertising in the newspapers, how much more good it would have done! Thirty thousand dollars will buy a big lot of space, which if used to advantage would bring to the attention of millions of people Tulsa's natural resources."

APPEARANCE OF TOWNS.

German Plan of Competitive Prizes Suggested to Beautify It.

Americans can get many ideas from their neighbors across the waters, says the Southern Architect, the latest being to beautify their towns by the practical method for improvement by architectural aid.

In America the plan has been to organize "city beautiful" clubs. The clubs have done a wonderful work in upbuilding the towns and cities in the United States. Taken in conjunction with the German idea, which is most excellent, still greater improvements could be made.

An interesting phase of the German policy is revealed in the prize competition offered recently by the authorities of a Maxon town in Germany. The town council invites architects to submit suitable plans for the front of residential and business edifices. Four substantial prizes are offered for the most successful competitors, and other projects are to be purchased if deemed desirable. These plans will be placed freely at the service of property owners.

It is hoped by this means to combat unfortunate and all too prevalent tendencies on the one hand toward monotonous uniformity, on the other toward the baroque and grotesque.

The idea is certainly one which if intelligently carried out should eventually improve materially the general appearance of the towns where it is introduced.

Vacant Lot Committees.

If you live in a town where there is no improvement society, get a vacant lot committee appointed from your board of trade, women's club, literary society or some like organization. Visit all vacant lots, find owners, either in person or through correspondence, and labor toward keeping them clear of weeds and rubbish at all seasons of the year. This particular phase of civic betterment is all that some improvement clubs aim to do, and there is nothing in the average town that so badly needs attention and zealous supervision, nothing that adds more to the general appearance of a thickly settled town or village or that will give such good returns for labor or money expended.

Odorless and Neat.

Anything that tends to keep the outside of a house neat and tidy adds to the good appearance of a town. A little wooden house, much like a dog kennel, just holds up garbage can and ash can. Two lids and two doors allow easy access, says a writer in Good Housekeeping. There is no bottom. Instead the whole thing stands on a small brick pavement, which is easily washed off with the hose. Consequently there is never any odor. A neighbor has a wooden bottom to his—also a smell.

Novel Engineering Idea.

The novel idea of a German mining engineer is an endless rope band as a pump in boreholes. This absorbs a large quantity of oil, or salt and acid solutions, and the liquid is squeezed out between rollers as the rope is drawn upward. As the only weight to be lifted is that of the liquid on the ascending side the method is suggested as economical for draining mines as well as pumping oil.

HIGH-TEST SAFES

—AT— McNAMARA'S

The principle followed in the construction of these safes is exactly what the name implies, "High-Test," both in tensile strength and in their fire-proof qualities.

Great tensile strength is acquired by steel plate inside and outside.

The lock is the most expensive known to modern safe builders.

The depth of these safes is from two to three inches greater than in other safes similarly constructed.

The filling is fire-proof, moisture proof. These safes are sold under the following guarantee:

WE GUARANTEE Mellink's Safe to be perfect in material, construction and finish. We further guarantee it to be fire-proof; that the walls will never swell; that neither the inside or outside walls will rust, and that it will never gather dampness or moisture inside when used under any conditions where a safe will ordinarily be used.

If you want a safe for private use, you need a safe that can be guaranteed on the points we mention.

LILLEY CHARGES NOT WARRANTED

HOUSE COMMITTEE GIVES REPRESENTATIVE HARD RAPS.

SUBMARINE CASE FINDING

Connecticut Man Said to Have Acted in Bad Faith and as Tool of Rival Company—Also Accused of Contempt.

Washington, May 20.—That Representative George L. Lilley of Connecticut was not warranted in bringing charges against certain of his colleagues in the house and accredited members of the press, is the conclusion reached by the special committee named by Speaker Cannon to investigate methods employed by the Electric Boat Company of New Jersey in connection with legislation before congress. In an exhaustive report submitted to the house Wednesday, Chairman Duntell and his colleagues review the testimony brought out before the committee on hearings extending over several weeks and declare with entire unanimity that no member of the house and no representative of the press have been induced by officers of the Electric Boat Company to act from corrupt or improper motives.

Makes Charge Against Lilley. Furthermore, the committee finds that Mr. Lilley allowed himself to be used as an instrument of the Lake Torpedo Boat Company in questioning the integrity and fairness of the members of the investigating committee and in attacking a competing submarine company. Mr. Lilley is charged also with maintaining an attitude of bad faith, both in bringing the charges and concealing from the committee the identity of the real parties in interest behind the investigation.

The investigation grew out of a resolution introduced by Mr. Lilley in the house on February 20 last asking that a committee be appointed to investigate the conduct of the Electric Boat Company of New Jersey and their predecessors, the Holland company, respecting the methods employed by the companies named, in connection with past and proposed legislation before congress.

Call Lilley Company's Tool.

It is alleged that Mr. Lilley acted in bad faith in stating before this committee that he had made no charge reflecting upon members of the house before the committee on rules; that Mr. Lilley allowed himself to be used as an instrument of the Lake Torpedo Boat Company in its rivalry and attack upon a competing company; that Mr. Lilley's real object in introducing his resolution and making his charges was the same as the purpose of the propaganda of the Lake Torpedo Boat Company, namely, the defeat of the clause in the naval committee's bill relating to submarines; that Mr. Lilley acted in bad faith in concealing from the committee the real parties in interest who were behind this investigation and furnishing him with information and evidence.

Lilley Severely Roasted.

Regarding the battle-ship plans the report says that the charge that the four battle-ship proposition was defeated by the adoption of the submarine clause in the naval committee's bill was false; that Mr. Lilley, as a member of the naval committee, knew that the charge was false, and that he refused to maintain the charge before the committee. The report continues: "That Representative Lilley was made the object of anonymous charges that were without any foundation in fact; that Mr. Lilley violated his obligation as a member of this house in formulating and urging before this committee the groundless charges against Representative Lund; that Mr. Lilley acted in contempt of this house in destroying the forged letter from Webster to Edinborough instead of delivering it to this committee; that Mr. Lilley violated his obligations as a member of this house."

Lilley Charged with Contempt.

Contempt is charged in the clause stating "that Mr. Lilley acted in contempt of this house in not disavowing openly upon the floor of the house the letter to Goff, published over his signature, reflecting upon the honor and integrity of members of this house; that no official of the navy has been induced by the officers of the Electric Boat Company or any one else to act in his official capacity from corrupt or improper motives; that Mr. Lilley's charge of excessive profits in the submarine contracts was based on fictitious figures, composed by an agent of the Lake Torpedo Boat Company by a perversion of the testimony of Admiral Howley in 1902."

HIGH OFFICIALS INVOLVED

SENSATIONAL STATEMENT IN THE WOOD-PLATT CASE.

Former Consul Miller Drags In Robert Wynne, Mr. Loeb and Other Persons.

New York, May 20.—High government officials at Washington are alleged to have conspired to obtain possession of love letters said to have been written by United States Senator Thomas C. Platt to Miss Wood.

Wood, in a signed statement introduced as evidence during Tuesday's hearing in Miss Wood's suit for divorce against the senator.

The statement, which was introduced after the court had denied a motion by counsel for Senator Platt to dismiss the complaint, bears witness to the signature of J. Martin Miller and Miss Wood said that while she did not see the signature affixed, she was assured by Mr. Miller that it was genuine. The statement was prepared by Miller at her request, she testified. It declared that Miller was asked by "high government officials in Washington and New York to get possession of Senator Platt's love letters; that the papers when obtained were not to be given to Senator Platt, but were to be turned over to "Mr. Loeb in Washington; and that when the plan to get possession of the original papers failed, a scandal was begun in the newspapers to force Miss Wood to come to terms."

Wynne, first assistant postmaster general, started the ball rolling by getting a New York newspaper to print the article as it first appeared," says the statement, which concludes:

"I was gotten into the conspiracy by powerful officials whom I dare not to disclose from a newspaper or political standpoint. I consulted Mr. Howe, Mr. Platt's secretary, frequently, and acted at all times under the direction of Loeb and Platt."

Former Postmaster General Wynne is the present American consul general to London. J. Martin Miller, a former newspaper man, recently was American consul at Rheims, France.

"Did Miller ever say anything to you about the letters?" asked the examining attorney of Miss Wood.

"Yes," she replied; "he said that if he got the letters the Platts would never get them."

"What was he going to do with them?"

"Hold them over Platt's head, I believe," she answered.

HOUSE HAS A BUSY DAY.

Representatives Clean Up a Great Deal of Business.

Washington, May 20.—In the house Tuesday the conference report on the legislative appropriation bill was agreed to; conference reports on the agricultural and fortifications appropriation bills were received; the bill making an appropriation of $1,500,000 for representation by the United States at the Tokyo exposition in 1912 was passed, as were also two omnibus bills, embodying 40 separate measures, having to do with public lands and matters in the territories.

COTTON TRADERS SHOCKED

NEW YORK EXCHANGE MEMBERS SUMMONED BY JURY.

Investigation Has to Do with the Case of Edwin S. Holmes and the "Leake" of 1905.

New York, May 20.—Cotton trading interests here were given a pronounced shock Tuesday when it became known that 40 members of the New York cotton exchange had been subpoenaed to appear before the federal grand jury of this district. Among those answering the call were all the members of the board of managers of 1905 and also many members of the trade revision committees of the past few years.

While no official statement as to the purpose or scope of the investigation could be obtained, it is stated on excellent authority, that it has to do in an immediate sense with the case of Edwin S. Holmes, who was dismissed in 1905 from the associate chairmanship of the bureau of statistics, department of agriculture, after "leaks" in the crop reporting system of the government had been investigated by secret service agents. One of the aims of the government now it is believed is to obtain additional evidence with a view of reopening the case and entering upon active prosecution.

The feature of the day's happenings which created the biggest stir in the cotton trading circles, however, was a demand made by the grand jury through Federal District Attorney Stinson for the production of the books of the exchange members summoned. From this many cotton traders have gathered the idea that the present investigation has a purpose beyond the discovery of additional evidence bearing on the Holmes case.

Superintendent King of the cotton exchange emphatically denied that the service of the subpoenas had anything to do with the methods of the classification committee or with the business of the exchange.

BATTLE WITH ARMED POSSE.

Four Men Shot When Ohio Family Resists Officers.

Chickamauga, May 20.—In a battle Tuesday between an armed posse from Squire C. V. Dill's court, Reading, and Charles Jones and his four sons, barricaded in their home between Reading and Pleasant Ridge, four men were shot, and it is believed, one of them will die. The victims were Charles Jones and his son, Charles, Jr., who was seriously wounded, and Joseph Uhrig and Henry Dodd, deputy constables. Revolvers and repeating rifles were used by the combatants.

Peters was commissioned by Squire Dill to serve a writ of replevin for a horse held by Jones, who is a horse dealer. The Jones family resisted and the shooting followed.

Should Have Been Cool.

A Massachusetts congressman who was on board the train which was wrecked at Hyde Park, Massachusetts, says that when the shock came one of the passengers was pitched over several seats just in time to receive the contents of the water cooler, which tipped over and soaked his clothing with ice-water. A highly excited passenger rushed up to him and told him to keep cool. "Go away," said the wet man, "I'm the coolest man in the car. I have just had two buckets of ice-water emptied down my back."

A Subtle Difference.

Mrs. Blank, wife of a prominent minister near Boston, had in her employ a recently engaged colored cook as black as the proverbial ace of spades. One day Mrs. Blank said to her: "Matilda, I wish that you would have oat meal quite often for breakfast. My husband is very fond of it. He is Scotch, and you know that the Scotch eat a great deal of oatmeal."

"Oh, he's Scotch, is he?" said Matilda. "Well, now, do you know, I was thinkin' all along dat he wasn't des like us."—Woman's Home Companion.

Kangaroo as a Food.

Twenty or 30 years ago the back country squatters, in order to destroy kangaroos, used to dig huge pits at the corners of their paddocks, running yards of calico along their wire fences and then drive the kangaroos into the pits, clubbing and shooting them. In those days kangaroo skins were of no value; now that they are almost extinct, there is a great demand for them. The flesh of a young kangaroo is by no means to be despised, and kangaroo tail soup is a delicacy now hardly to be obtained.

An Objection.

"Why don't you explain to your constituents that you are making a sacrifice of personal income to remain in office?"

"I haven't any faith in that argument," answered Senator Borah. "People never appreciate what they think they are getting cheap."

STRIKE RIOTING IS MORE SERIOUS

CONDITIONS IN CLEVELAND ARE BECOMING WORSE.

FOUR PERSONS ARE SHOT

Car Burned by Strikers After Lively Battle with Guards—Girl's Death Due to Traction Trouble.

Cleveland, O., May 20.—Rioting became more general and serious in the street railway strike late Tuesday. The first death, while not a part of the strike, but incident to it, occurred when Yetta Wolkinski, four years of age, was run over by a car operated by an inexperienced motorman. A crowd quickly gathered and would have lynched the motorman had he not turned on full speed and escaped.

In Lakewood a car was stopped and the crew fired upon. Four persons were shot and seriously injured and the car was burned to the trucks. The first disturbance in the downtown section took place after dark, when a Woodland car was held up on Ontario street and the motorman and conductor attacked. The police dispersed the rioters.

Rioters Burn a Car.

The burning of a Clifton boulevard car in Lakewood was the most serious riot of the strike. The car was going toward the western terminal when it was stopped by a log being thrown across the track. It was the first effort to operate a car in Lakewood and the car carried no passengers, as trouble was expected when an attempt should be made to open the line. As soon as the car stopped it was surrounded by a crowd of rioters, who were hidden behind a railway bridge. Immediately the crowd began shooting at the members of the crew and guards. The latter, W. J. James and John Swanto, returned the fire. All told over 30 shots were exchanged.

While the shooting was in progress the crowd grew to nearly 1,000. Another car arrived and its crew and guards joined in the free-for-all fight. Gasoline was poured upon the second car and it burned to the trucks. Motorman P. C. Maholz was shot in the leg, John Gray and George Alexander, guards on the second car, were shot in the chest. Mace Burkhart, who was in the crowd which made the attack, was shot in the hand.

The state arbitrators took up their task of endeavoring to effect a reconciliation between the strikers and the Municipal Traction company early Tuesday night and remained in session several hours.

No Signs of Early Settlement. While the car service was slightly improved, the general situation appeared so serious that possibilities of a speedy settlement now are regarded as somewhat remote.

The members of the car men's union began a series of meetings for the purpose of arousing sympathy and to appeal to the public to refrain from using the cars until the strike finally is settled.

DOOMED TO TERRIBLE DEATH.

Wealthy New Yorker Told That He Has Hydrophobia.

New York, May 20.—William H. Marsh, an aged wealthy man, when told Tuesday that he undoubtedly would die within a week of hydrophobia, calmly turned away with the remark that he would be ready when the summons came. Without a tremor he walked down the steps of the Park tour institute, stepped into his car and started for his home in Brooklyn.

Adrift in a Runaway Balloon.

Barcelona, May 20.—One of the balloons participating in a contest here Tuesday was blown against the ground, the navigating aeronaut being thrown out. The balloon then broke loose and soared away with the other occupant of the car, who is totally inexperienced. Grave fears are entertained for his safety.

Self Realization.

There is a time in every man's education when he arrives at the conviction that envy is ignorance; that imitation is suicide; that he must take himself for better or for worse, as his portion; that, though the wide universe is full of good, no kernel of nourishing corn can come to him but through his toil bestowed on that plot of ground which is given him to till.—Ralph Waldo Emerson.

Spent It All.

Amazed at the brevity of little four-year-old Gracie's nap, her mother asked her why she awakened so soon. "Why," replied Gracie, looking up in childish astonishment, "I slept all the sleep I had."—Universalist Leader.

ON MANUFACTURING BASIS AT OUTSET

Owen Thomas Motor Car Co. Will be Prepared for Systematic Work When Factory Starts.

"We are giving careful attention to each detail and every part will be on a manufacturing basis when we begin to put the machines together," said Owen Thomas at the office of the Motor Car Co. which bears his name, this morning. Simply and strength will be two of the principal features of the new car, judging from the designs and parts which are to be seen at the North River street headquarters. The magneto, for instance, is one of the simplest contrivances imaginable. Brushes and brushwork and tiny wires are done away with, and the sparks are thrown off by contact, almost anywhere, with a good-sized core of iron revolving between the magnets and a pair of coils. This contrivance is built to defy mud and dirt and simply can't get out of order. The bearings will be much stronger than those of any other car on the market and the body or frame-work will be practically in a single piece stamped out of steel. Thus far even a temporary location which might be deemed suitable for the factory has not been secured, but negotiations are in progress and will probably be closed at an early date.

LOCAL PARAGRAPHS.

Deany McGinnity Much Improved: The many friends of the Rev. Deany McGinnity are rejoicing over the rapid improvement recently in his health. During the past few days he has been able to take several long drives and indications point to complete recovery.

Bike-Rider Chastised: While riding a bicycle on a North Jackson street walk last evening, a laboring man residing in that locality encountered a First Ward pedestrian who struck him squarely in the face and knocked him off his mount. The aggrieved rider found little sympathy at the police station, where the fact that riding on the walks is always reprehensible, especially after dark, was gently but firmly impressed upon him.

Obscene Men in City: R. L. Henry of New York, one of the most prominent tobacco men in the country, and George E. Garry, the well known Edgerton meat dealer, were in the city yesterday.

Eighteen Odd Fellows Came: Three candidates from Evansville and two from Janesville were put through third degree work by Janesville Lodge No. 99 and eighteen visiting brethren from the Cut-Off City at the west side hall last evening. The ceremonies were followed by the serving of refreshments and a smoker and the visiting delegation departed for home on the 11:20 train.

Baseball Teams Here: Manager Schoonhoven and the Prospect baseball team, en route for Green Bay, were quartered at the Grand hotel last evening. The Oshkosh ball-team, returning from Prospect, stopped overnight at the Hotel Meyer.

Cloak Shave: A house and wagon belonging to the Riverside laundry, which had been standing in the alley between Kimball's furniture store and Burns' dry-goods store, ran out of the alley and across Milwaukee street yesterday afternoon about 3:45. Just before hitting the door of Ransom's drugstore the horse, turned, so close that one of the thills scratched the window, and then stopped on the sidewalk. Several people in the store and shoppers on the sidewalks were badly scared by their narrow escape.

General Order No. 5: All comrades of Harry L. Clifford camp are hereby ordered to report at their hall at 10 o'clock Sunday morning, May 24, to attend memorial service at St. Peter's English Lutheran church. All ex-soldiers, sailors and marines cordially invited to participate. By order of EDW. S. PALTICH, Commander.

What fraction of the nation's wealth is consumed by a typical extraordinary hen in one year? BOLD BURGLARIES IN EARLY EVENING

E. W. Lowell Home and Residence at 155 N. Jackson St. Were Ransacked Before 8 P. M. Last Night.

While Mrs. E. W. Lowell was across the road visiting with a neighbor, about seven o'clock last evening, a burglar entered the residence at the corner of Ravine and 11th streets through a window which had been left partly open to allow fresh paint to dry. Mrs. Lowell returned about eight o'clock and entered the house she did not notice anything out of the way until the servant told her that things were turned topsy-turvy and some money gone from her pocketbook. On making a further investigation it was found that the thief had also found a hand bag belonging to Mrs. C. V. Hubbard and being unable to open it had cut the side and taken out a purse from which he had taken some money. He also obtained some coins from Mrs. Lowell's hand bag. The hand bags were found in the corner of the closet and the purses beside them. Mrs. Hubbard's purse still contained some Japanese coins which she had brought from the Orient. The thief evidently worked with the aid of a candle as Mrs. Lowell's hand bag had several tallow stains upon it. Nothing in any of the other rooms was touched and a purse with money in it, lying on the table in the room next to the one in which the hand bags were, was untouched. As she was returning to her home, Mrs. Lowell encountered a heavy set, smooth-faced individual in dark clothes and wearing a black stiff hat. Just as she was entering the yard, supposing him to be one of the painters she paid up at, he turned to her and was also seen by one of the neighbors a short time before.

Mrs. Lowell went to the office of the chief of police this morning to try and identify the suspects who had been picked up, but none of them proved to be the man whom she had seen.

Scarcely an hour after this burglary had been reported to the police, the residence at 155 North Jackson street adjoining the home of Alderman Wilbur Carlo was likewise entered via the window route and a small sum of money stolen. The police made a thorough search of the First ward and arrested half a dozen suspicious characters. No money, however, was found on any of them.

It is next to impossible for officers of the law to stop this petty thieving unless they have the prompt cooperation of citizens, and an immediate telephone message, wherever suspicious situations or appearances are observed in any neighborhood will be appreciated by Chief Appleby.

SCIENCE AND INVENTIONS

ELECTRIC CIGAR LIGHTER

Can be Attached to New Invention—Electric Light Socket.

In up-to-date cigar stores, clubs and places frequented by smokers the old-time alcohol cigar and cigarette lighter is being superseded by the electric lighter shown below, patented by an Ohio man. This improved device for general use far outclasses the alcohol lamp. In form it resembles a pair of woman's curling irons, being operated in the same manner. The electric current is obtained from the ordinary incandescent electric light socket. By pressing the handles together a contact is formed, causing a light to appear at the tip. The obvious great convenience of this lighter should make it exceedingly popular. It is always ready for immediate use; no greasy lamp to clean and refill, and from an economical standpoint should prove far cheaper than the alcohol lamp, as there is absolutely no waste. The lighter lights only when needed, and does not burn uselessly for hours.

ELECTRIC CIGAR AND CIGARETTE LIGHTER.

SIMPLIFIED EXERCISER

Useful in the Home, Having No Weights or Pulleys to Adjust.

A simplified exercising apparatus that will appeal to the physical culturist has been designed and patented by a Massachusetts man. The majority of such exercises now in use, besides being complicated in construction, are equally so in operation. This objection is overcome in the exerciser shown in the accompanying illustration. It consists of elastic bands, each of which is independently adjustable in length. They are supported on the body by means of straps, which rest on the arm close to the shoulder. At the extremity of each band is a dumbbell. When the arms are extended as shown, the elastic bands expand, the straps being held in position by the band that extends across the back of the wearer. The absence of any complicated weights or pulleys to adjust makes this apparatus especially useful for use in the home, being very quickly and easily adjusted on the arms.

MAILBAG ATTACHMENT

Holds Mouth of Bag Open, Renders Bag It Readily Accessible.

Everyone who has ever handled a mail bag knows what a cumbersome and ungainly article it is. It cannot be satisfactorily suspended from the wall or other convenient point so that the mail can be readily thrown in or ready. Holding what a great disadvantage this was to a carrier dispatching a large volume of mail daily a Kentucky woman endeavored to provide a simple attachment for mailbags that would overcome this nuisance. She accordingly devised the attachment shown here, which, when thus expanded, holds the mouth of the bag open for the reception of letters and packages. It is formed of metal bands so pivoted at the corners that it can be quickly folded up when the bag is full and sealed. At opposite corners are bands by which the bag can be suspended from suitable supports.

POMPADOUR PUFF COMB

Prevents the Hair From Becoming Accidentally Displaced.

The fluffy ruffled girl, whose main ambition is to wear a pompadour larger than any other girl, will be interested in the puff comb shown here, designed by a New Jersey man. It presents an easy and satisfactory means of supporting the hair roll and preventing it from being accidentally displaced. It is really a combination of two combs, one smaller than the other. When placed in position the small comb grips the ends of the hair that are thrown backward over the hair roll from the front of the head, the larger comb being forced into the hair at the back. It will thus really be seen that the hair cannot be easily displaced and can be retained in position much longer than with the ordinary combs and pins.

NOVEL SPELLING CARD

Useful in Kindergarten to Amuse and Instruct the Youngsters.

An educational device of real merit, designed especially to interest and instruct the younger children, is shown in the

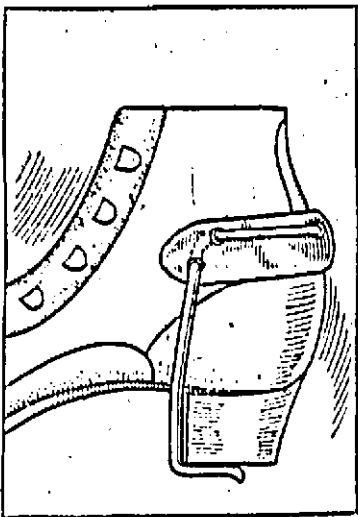

TO INSTRUCT THE CHILDREN.

Illustration below, the invention of a Maryland man. It comprises a number of sections of card placed at right angles to each other in such a way as to form the letters of the alphabet and an object, the letters and portions of objects being so arranged that when some of the sections have been brought together to spell the name of the object the latter will appear complete upon the reverse side of the sections thus assembled. The sections are interchangeable, so that they can be manipulated in a great many positions. This novel spelling card should be found especially desirable for use in kindergartens.

SIMPLE ICE-CREEPER

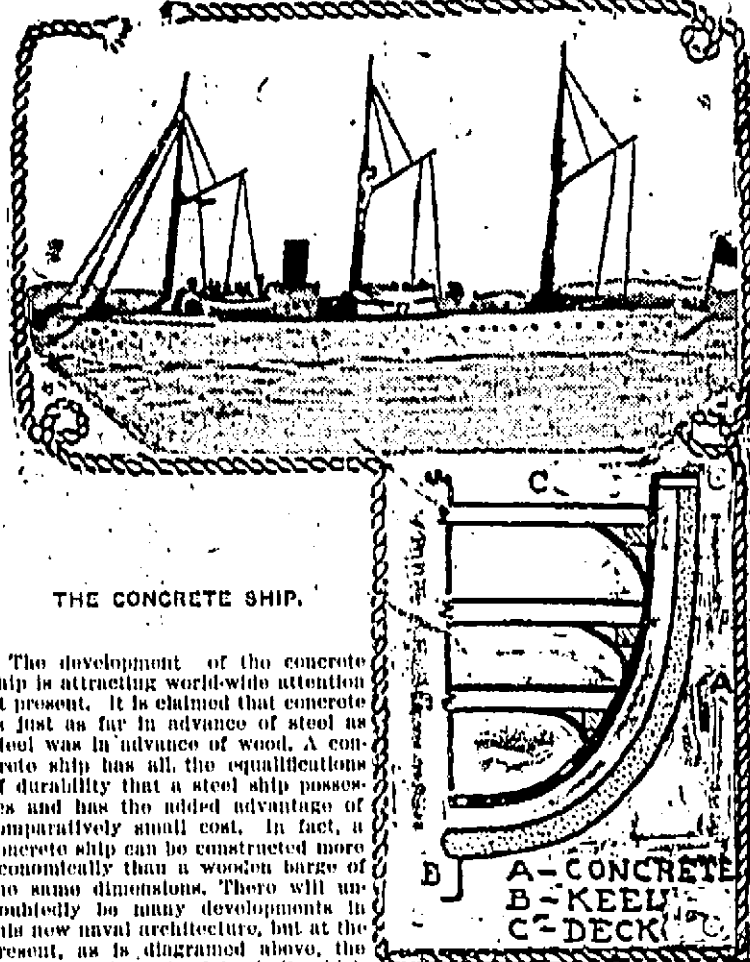

Can Be Easily and Quickly Adjusted on the Heel of the Shoe.

Many months will elapse before it will be necessary to think of protection against icy and slippery pavements. Nevertheless, it would be well to keep in mind an exceedingly simple ice-creeper designed by a Chicago man and shown in the illustration below. To those men who dislike to wear overshoes to prevent slipping on icy pavements, this little attachment, which fits over the heel of the shoe, will prove useful. It is formed of spring wire, bent to clamp on the heel. The ends of the wire terminate in prongs, which slightly project below the ground when in position on the shoe. Equipped with these ice-creeper, the wearer need have no fear of slipping on ice-covered pavements. In addition, he can carry them in his pocket when not needed, to be quickly adjusted on the shoe when required.

THE CONCRETE SHIP.

The development of the concrete ship is attracting world-wide attention at present. It is claimed that concrete is just as far in advance of steel as steel was in advance of wood. A concrete ship has all the qualifications of durability that a steel ship possesses and has the added advantage of comparatively small cost. In fact, a concrete ship can be constructed more economically than a wooden barge of the same dimensions. There will undoubtedly be many developments in this new naval architecture, but at the present, as is diagrammed above, the process consists of a false hull, which is covered over with wire lathing and several coats of concrete applied to this. Or the outside a thin coat of pure cement is applied, so that the entire finish becomes perfectly smooth and offers little resistance to the water. This forms a substantial hull, which the ravages of time do not affect.

The boat costs almost nothing for maintenance, is fireproof and the actual cost is but about one-third as much as iron vessels of the same capacity. The first occasion on which concrete was used as a ship building material was in 1855, when a small boat made of it was exhibited at the Paris exposition by a Frenchman named Lambot. This vessel, which is still afloat, seems to stand the wear and tear of high seas very well. It was not until 1896 that the matter was taken up again and then an Italian named Gabellini constructed several concrete vessels of about 120 tons displacement, some of which are still in use on the Italian rivers.

Some years later the Italian government gave instructions for an experimental boat to be built of concrete. This boat of 120 tons was built by Gabellini and was subjected to severe tests in the dockyard at Spezia. A much larger iron vessel with a sharp run was directed against it, but no impression was produced on or damage done to the concrete ship. The result was that several similar vessels were built for the Italian government.

PACKEY M'FARLAND INSISTS ON HAVING HOGAN REFEREE THE FIGHT WITH "BAT" NELSON.

Chicago, Ill.—Packey M'Farland, who returned today from Milwaukee, where he signed articles with Nelson for a light-weight fight before the Budget Athletic club, is determined to have Hogan referee the match and insisted upon putting this condition in the contract.

"Hogan is my choice for referee and I am sure that will hold out for Mackie, too," declared Packie, "and I made that stipulation in the articles which I signed with Matchmaker Tom Andrews while in Milwaukee. Chicago fans would prefer that a local referee officiate in this contest, for I am sure there will be an army of them at the club when the battle is started."

The M'Farland training camp will be pitched at Hialeah, near Miami, in Florida, and State streets, and the little Irishman will begin work Monday morning. He will do his road plodding through the south parks in the forenoon and in the afternoon will wade through an extensive program of gymnasium work.

Kid Farmer (the original) will assist Pat Kennedy in getting Packie into trim. The local middleweight will attend to the rough work, and Packie figures that the pointers he can pick up from Farmer will help him lots in hardening his system for the boxing tactics of the Hegewich veteran.

The weight should be an easy task for M'Farland. He scaled at 141 pounds stripped yesterday, and the weight, 133 pounds at 3 o'clock, will not put the hurt to any inconvenience. The exact date of the match will not be determined until after Nelson reaches Milwaukee the middle of next week.

The battle will start from Prince Saturday night after the Kotel-Sullivan fight, and after adding his stature to the articles, he will probably head for Chicago to do his training. The bout will be held, however, on either May 22 or 23.

STATION AT YORKTON, WHERE DOUKHOBORS ARE BEING HELD.

Whitney, Manitoba.—The citizens of Yorkton object in a most decided manner the department from Fort William to the west of the oceanic railway. This religious body is one of the most peculiar in the world. This belief leads them to the committing of crimes against decency which are revolting. One belief is that they shall do away entirely with clothing and appear nude upon the streets. After many arrests had been made at Fort William to protect the citizens against these people, they were finally deported to Yorkton. It was thought this would take care of the local situation, as it did, but the people of Yorkton refuse to allow these people to locate in their vicinity, and when the train arrived guards were on hand to see that not a single person of the seventy-one on the train alighted at the station. What the final outcome is to be hard to predict, but the citizens of Yorkton claim they will never allow the Doukhobors to settle in Manitoba. At the present time the train is still guarded on a sidetrack and the seventy-one Doukhobors do nothing but sit by the windows in the view of sight-seers. Another peculiar part of their belief is their diet. On this train the only food provided are peanuts and apples and they seem to thrive on this simple diet.

WILL ERADICATE THE DANDELIONS

PROFESSOR BOLLEY GIVES SOME SAGE ADVICE ON SUBJECT.

CAN BE DONE BY SPRAYING

North Dakota Botanist Who Married Janesville Girl Offers Solution of the Problem.

Professor Henry L. Bolley, of the North Dakota Experiment station and husband of Miss Paula Sheldon, a sister of Fred S. Sheldon and Miss Sam Smith of this city, has just published an interesting article on eradicating dandelions on lawns, roadsides and meadows that just at this time is particularly interesting to Janesville people who are suffering from the pest. Professor Bolley has made the subject a close study and in writing of it says:

There are many calls upon the Agricultural Experiment stations to give advice on how to eradicate the dandelion on parks and lawns. Complete eradication of this weed is probably an economic impossibility for the obvious reason that it has gained a world wide distribution in waste places and from there it may always be expected to furnish seed for general distribution upon lawns, parks, and meadows and roadsides. Its wind-blown seeds are produced at almost all times of the year and may be expected to be present in large numbers upon any piece of ground.

Many of our best parks and lawns are kept free from these weeds by persistent diligence in using the spud or knife, cutting below ground. This method, if sufficiently persisted in, eventually destroys the old dandelions, provided only the person who does the cutting does not allow any leaves to come to light. The dandelion being perennial rooted, stores up a large amount of reserve food material in its roots. Persistent destruction of the leaves prevents food reaching and even old roots must die if sufficiently starved in this manner. This station has conducted a number of cutting tests upon old dandelions and young dandelions, and we find that any part of the root below the ground which is in a normal state will send up new plants after being cut off. Plants readily send up shoots from roots that were cut three and four inches below the surface. The more often they are cut the weaker become the offshoots. The trouble with the process of cutting is that the surface of the lawn is kept too much disturbed for the formation of a good turf and the method actually demands too much labor.

Heavy Seeding.—Another means of keeping this lawn pest in check, is heavy seeding. At the start, the lawn should be given an extra thick seeding of blue grass. Many lawns are kept in good condition and free from dandelions by constantly keeping the ground well supplied with blue grass seed. A very satisfactory seeding calls for the use of from 5 to 10 lbs. of seed upon a 100 by 150 ft. once every three months, April, July and September. Keeping the lawn thus well supplied with grass seed keeps a firm mat of grass over the area, preventing bare spots, wherein the dandelion seed may lodge and germinate. As the weed is a sun loving one, the young plants cannot withstand a dense growth of young grass, so that lawns which are well supplied with grass seed and are regularly mowed give it slight chance to get a foothold. Under this method, old plants must be uprooted as they are sturdy enough to hold their own. Good success has been obtained in using large quantities of white clover seed upon areas infested by dandelions. White clover under ordinary conditions, if the drainage is good, withstands crowding out most grasses and weeds. However, under the best conditions, it sometimes dies out in large areas leaving the lawn spotted and unsightly when the dandelion readily takes possession. The white clover method is most approved for roadside improvement.

Road supervisors and street commissioners should, after the streets are properly graded, seed the roadsides and ditches to white clover, covering any possible bare spots with fresh seed each spring.

Fighting the Dandelion by Means of Chemical Sprays.—Fortunately, late experiments indicate that spraying will eventually give marked success. In fact, the man who is sufficiently patient and persistent to make a success in any work which demands constant observation and constant redoubt at the right time, will have no difficulty in maintaining a weed free lawn. The dandelion may be eradicated in blue grass lawns, in parks and meadows and roadsides without injury to the grass by means of iron sulphate sprays properly applied at the right time. This does not mean that it will stay out. As near as the writer can state from the work he has done, it will be necessary to spray the lawns in the region of Fargo approximately once a month to once in six weeks throughout the year in order to hold the dandelion completely in check. During the present season, four times spraying has completely disposed of a heavy growth of new dandelions and sent the dandelions of more than one year's growth into winter without any foliage. This does not mean that there will be no dandelions on that lawn the coming year, but it does mean that with a proper hand sprayer and a total of eight hours' labor the lawn has apparently been freed from dandelions. Of course there are millions of wind blown seeds which will yet germinate and there are many old roots which have not been completely smothered because the process of starvation has not been continued sufficiently long. Yet I can safely vouch for the statement that spraying, when properly undertaken, is a much cheaper means of disposing of this pest in lawns than any other mode now in use, and that the grass and in no way be injured. The writer was able to prepare a solution and properly spray an area of approximately 170 feet by 70 feet in two hours' time. It would, of course, be impossible to cut more than a few dandelions in this time. Plants, though more hardy, also gradually dies out under the spraying.

Apparatus.—For ordinary lawn purposes the ideal apparatus is the compressed air type of hand spraying machine. It is necessary that sufficient pressure be maintained by the pump to make a forceful spray of a fine form. If the liquid is thrown in large drops, as the very young grass roots beneath the soil have slight power of resisting the action of the chemical. The capacity of the tank should be approximately three to four gallons and it should be of such neat construction that one can readily carry it about without soiling clothes. Necessarily, if it is properly air tight it will be free from leaks and chances to spill liquids.

The machine should be fitted with about three feet of compression hose and a three foot extension rod, allowing one to readily swing the nozzle over the lawn. The nozzle should be of such a nature as to throw a rather wide fan-shaped spray. For city parks, roadsides and the larger lawns some one of the traction carts will be found desirable. Cities and towns will find it an economical way of grasping the roadsides and causing the destruction of unsightly weeds. Every city and town should possess one or more good spray carts and several hand sprayers, the latter to allow spraying to be done in waste places, difficult to reach with the traction sprayer. A man can readily spray over an acre as fast as he would mow or with a team. The traction spray is rather more rapid in action than moving on the machine allows traveling over rough ground.

What to Use.—The most satisfactory substance for general work upon dandelions and miscellaneous roadside weeds is iron sulphate, used at the rate of approximately two pounds for each gallon of water. On lawns for dandelions alone where a hand machine is used, the strength of one and one-half to one and one-half pounds per gallon will be found to give the desired result, though, if the dandelions are large and coarse and the grass hardy, two pounds for each gallon of water will give best results.

When to Spray.—On lawns do not spray until two or three days after cutting and do not mow the lawn within two to three days after spraying. Spray on bright, sunny days. The lawn should be prepared for spraying by thorough watering preceding the spraying so that it would not need to be watered for two or three days after spraying. Select any day when it is not likely to rain within the next day or two, as heavy rain immediately following will destroy the weed killing power.

Whatever the method used for eradication of the dandelion, a fresh supply of blue grass seed scattered on the lawn each June and September will surely repay the cost. Care should be taken to observe that the seed does not contain a percentage of dandelion or plantain seeds.

Heads Cosmopolitans

The Cosmopolitan Annual, the official organ of the Association of Cosmopolitan Clubs just published for the association by the Cornell Cosmopolitan club, is dedicated to Louis P. Lochner, Wisconsin, '09, Milwaukee, the first president of the association, through whose efforts the general association of international clubs of students in the various institutions of the country was recently established. The illustrations include a frontispiece portrait of Mr. Lochner, a group picture of the delegates and speakers at the recent Madison convention of cosmopolitan clubs, a group picture of the Wisconsin International club, and a photograph of the unique stage decorations of the International Club hall on the occasion of the recent Philippine night, with a group of the fourteen Philippine students who took part in the program that night. The Wisconsin International club, which was organized in 1903, was the first organization of its kind in any university in this country. LIFE IS A SEQUENCE.

Hope for the best, get ready for the worst and take what God sends. The time to hustle for riches or business is all the time, the less business there is the more you want to hustle. Life is a sequence—this happened today because you did that yesterday. Tomorrow will be the result of today. Today's advertising influences tomorrow's trade. This single edition of the Gazette offers sufficient opportunities to save enough money to pay for it for three months. Read the ads every day.

The essence of good advertising is to avoid friction. Never mind what your competitor is doing; study the man in your own overcoat and keep your publicity up all the time.

Points for merchants cultivate courage and aggressiveness in your newspaper advertising. Educate the people to look for your ads. Make your announcements interesting, plain, make them say something more than just "jump for sale" say what kind of soap, what it will do, whether its perfume or not, whether it helps or hurts the skin, tell the "why" of all these qualities and then tell them it costs 10c a bar and is worth it. People buy things freely when they know they are getting their money's worth, and how will they know it unless you tell them? Don't tell one or two people a day it is too slow. Tell everybody every day through the Gazette columns. The Gazette, Daily and Semi-Weekly each week, goes to five times the number of people reached by all other Janesville publications combined. It's the greatest single power for news and business in Rock county. Think this over. Think right, act right. It is what we think and what we do that makes us what we are.

LOUISVILLE ALDERMEN FIGHT.

Police Called to Quell Struggle Among the Councilmen.

Louisville, Ky., May 20.—Police were called into the chamber of the board of councilmen Thursday night to quell a free-for-all fight which broke out among the members. The trouble grew out of the hard feeling engendered by a protracted and bitter struggle over the awarding of the yearly contract for the city's printing. Eleven members of the lower board refused to go into joint session with the board of aldermen, hoping thereby to prevent the letting of the contract. A number of personal encounters immediately followed but the police intervened before any of the belligerents had received more than a few bruises. The recalcitrant 11 were not strong enough to break a quorum and the contract was let.

WEATHER REPORT OF WEEK JUST CLOSED

What Government Figures Show as to Crop Conditions—Much Rain Fell.

The weather during the first half of the week ending May 18th was generally cloudy and cool, with showers every day and considerable heavy rain in the eastern portion of the state on Thursday, the 14th. The rain was much needed in the northern and, especially, the northwestern sections, but in the southeastern quarter of the state, where the soil was generally saturated with moisture, the additional heavy rains were injurious. During the 15th the weather generally cleared and was mostly clear or partly cloudy for the remainder of the week with about seasonable temperature, except near the shores of the Great Lakes where the prevailing lake winds caused the temperature to remain generally below the normal.

The mean temperature for the state during the week was about normal. The lowest temperature was considerably above the freezing point and no frost was reported. The precipitation averaged more than twice the normal amount and was very unevenly distributed, being heaviest along the Lake Michigan shore and lightest in the north-central counties.

HEALTHY PLANTS

Require the Most Careful Attention as Well as Good Soil.

"Did" you ever see a rosebush which—despite the most beneficent environment of soil—and sun—and atmosphere—seemed never to achieve a healthy growth.

A ton of manure will not help a plant that has a canker eating out its heart. You must destroy the cause before you can remove the effect.

You cannot cure Dandruff and Baldness by rubbing on hair lotions, and rubbing in vasoline, etc.

You must look to the cause of the trouble—it's a germ at the roots of your hair which causes it to fall out. Newbros' Herpicide destroys the germ, and healthy hair is the sure result.

"Well, then," he said, putting his hand as if he had been an old woman or a small child. "Poor old Archibald, did I make it cross? Well, it was a chance!" And he smiled at me with such a mixture of contrition and fun that I was obliged after a short struggle to laugh unconstrainedly.

"Well, I suppose you will begin operations according to your latest clew to-morrow?" he laughed at me.

I did not answer him, and silence fell upon us. I was pondering over the problem and did not look at Vincent for a long while, but when I did I saw that his face was a troubled, hopeless look, and that his whole attitude indicated profound dejection.

"Vincent," I said, leaning over him,
"what's the trouble?" I had been nothing of late that he had been subject to fits of melancholy altogether out of keeping with his character, and I had come to the conclusion that he had some trouble on his mind.

I wanted to know what it was, so that I could help him. When I spoke he turned his head slowly and looked at me a moment silently, then smiled faintly, the very ghost of that splendid, boyish smile of his, so that it went to my heart.

"Oh, Arch," he burst out, "everything's wrong! But it's not my fault; how could I help loving her?"

I was amazed. What was the boy talking about, and who was it that he loved?

"Yes, sir," he went on; "I met her withholding from him the knowledge that she was married helped me to do the deed.

"Vincent," I said, slowly, "do you mean—do I gather from your ravings that you honestly—care for this person?" I had risen to my feet, and as I spoke Vincent's whole expression changed in a flash.

"Your inference is perfectly correct," he said. His face went white and there was war in his tone, for he perceived that I meant trouble.

The necessity of saving the boy I loved from the consequences of his love, fully took possession of me, and I was full of rage at Vincent and at that senseless woman in the gray gown who had entrapped him.

"You fool," I said, putting my face close to his square, cleft chin, "why do you throw away your chance in life like that? What do you want to let yourself get entangled with an adventuresome girl? Don't you know the woman's married? She confessed to having one husband; she may have a dozen, for all I know!"

The inevitable happened, for Vincent, with a half-articulate cry like a wild animal, raised his clenched fist and struck at me. Fortunately for us both, he struck wildly in his anger and I caught the blow on my arm.

"You liar!" he shouted, "oh, you liar!" and in a rage that shook him from head to foot he rushed from the room and slammed the door.

I was sick at heart as I stood staring four miles from town carrying an old baggard-woman's bundle because the poor old thing had hurt her foot. And when I drew up the dogcart and asked her to get in and take the bundle too, she shook her head, and, by Jove, she wouldn't get in till I let the old baggard-woman get in, too!" Vincent turned to me positively radiant. "Ah, Terhune!" he cried, "you don't know what it is. I love her so!"

And as he stood there, his face transfigured, I grasped in a moment the meaning of the whole thing and the understanding struck like a blow at my heart and I knew how dear the welfare of this boy was to me. Somehow, Vincent represents to me the things I might have been, and am not;
the things I might have won, and have lost; he represents the first flush of my own youth. And now that I had wasted those opportunities to lead the selfish existence of the average bachelor, I found a certain joy in again experiencing those first throbs of living that had been mine, in the person and life of young Vincent.

As he stood before me, glowing with feeling, I felt that it was for me to wipe that look from his face, erasing it as it were, and my anger at the woman who had so deceived the boy by after him to think that marriage had come to such a pass between Vincent and myself. Although no man can hear himself called a liar, even by his best friend, without resenting it, still, when the first flush of my wrath had passed, I forgave him for it, for I knew that the heat of his passion would permit no satisfaction but violence, and, of course, if he really cared for the woman, the words I had used were about the most insulting possible.

However, I had done what seemed to be my duty, and I only reproached myself bitterly for not having told him of the secretary's marriage before his unhappy infatuation had gained such headway. But he had discerned my first suspicions and I had never dreamed that anything so serious was on foot. That was a restless night for me and it was dawn before I fell into a light sleep.

California Vote for Bryan.

Fresno, Cal., May 20.—The California Democratic state convention closed its sessions late Tuesday after electing four delegates-at-large to the national convention at Denver and adopting a resolution instructing the entire California delegation to vote for W. J.
Bryan's election.

OLD SORES

KEPT OPEN BY BAD BLOOD

Whenever a sore refuses to heal, it is because of bad blood. If the place existed simply because the flesh was diseased at that particular spot, it would be an easy matter to apply some remedy directly to the ulcer that would kill the germ; or the diseased flesh might be removed by a surgical operation and a cure effected. But the very fact that old sores resist every form of local or external treatment, and even return after being cut away, shows that back of them is a morbid cause which must be removed before a cure can result.

The impurities in the blood which keep old sores open, come from different causes. A long spell of debilitating sickness, which breeds disease germs in the system, is a common source. These morbid impurities get into the circulation, and the blood becomes a polluted, infectious fluid, which, instead of nourishing the fibres and tissues of the flesh, irritates and ulcerates them, and continually discharges its impurities into the open sore, and prevents the place from healing. Another cause for bad blood is the retention in the system of the refuse and waste matters of the body. Those members whose duty it is to carry off the useless accumulations, become dull and sluggish in their action and leave their work imperfectly done, and this fermenting matter is absorbed into the circulation. The weakening or polluting of this vital fluid may also come from the results of some constitutional disease, while persons who are born with an hereditary blood taint are very apt to be afflicted with sores and ulcers.

Local or external applications can not cure an old sore, because they do not reach the blood. Such treatment may reduce the inflammation, lessen the pain and discharge, and tend to keep the place clean, and for this reason should be used, but it can do no real good toward effecting a permanent cure.

S. S. S. cures sores and ulcers by purifying the blood. It removes every impurity and taint from the circulation, and completely does away with the cause. When S. S. S. has cleansed the blood, the sore begins to heal, and it is not a surface cure, but the healing process begins at the bottom; soon the pain and inflammation leave, the discharge ceases, and the place fills in with firm, healthy flesh.

S. S. S. is purely vegetable, made only
from roots and herbs, and is an absolutely safe medicine for persons of any age. Under the purifying and tonic effects of S. S. S. the system is built up, and those whose health has been impaired because of the drain and worry of an old sore, will be doubly benefited by its use. Special book on Sores and Ulcers and any medical advice free. S. S. S. is for sale at all drug stores.

ENTIRE FOOT A SOLID SORE.

Some time ago I had a sore to come on my foot, and nothing
I used would do it any good.
It continued to grow worse and eat deeper into the surrounding flesh, until the entire foot was a solid sore, and gave me a great deal of worry and trouble. I tried almost everything I heard of, but got no benefit until I commenced
S. S. S. In a short time after commencing this remedy I began to improve, and I continued to use it until it drove the poison from my blood, and completely cured this obsta-inate sore. I recommend it most highly, as a remedy for sores and ulcers.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Daily Gazette, May 20, 1868.—Holberg At Rockton—Two houses were entered at Rockton, Ill., on Monday night by burglars. From one was taken $200 in money, and from another a gold watch. Suspects are entertained of some men from this place.

What It Contains—Through the courtesy of Mr. E. S. Eldred we have been permitted to examine the contents of the box under the corner stone of the old Congregational church.

The next thing that comes to hand is the Janesville Gazette, published by Levi Alden. This is the date of September 21, 1848. It is a thirty looking seven column sheet and supports ardently the Whig candidates, Taylor and Fillmore for President and vice president. It is greatly gloved at the factious course of the Free Soilers which threatens the defeat of the Whig party.

Chicago, May 20.—National Republican Convention—The convention was called to order at twelve m. and General Carl Schurz was elected temporary chairman, and made an eloquent speech.

The convention is now engaged in appointing the various committees. The nomination for President will not probably be made until tomorrow. General Slicks will be permanent president.

The contest for vice-president is very sharp. Wade is thought to be ahead, with Hamilton, Colfax and Pen-ton close behind.

New York, May 20.—The Board of Health, at a meeting, yesterday, ordered back to quarantine the brig Dredge, which arrived at this port on the 15th inst., on the ground that there had been previous to her departure from Montanzas, a contagious disease on board, of which two persons died.

Montreal, May 20.—The various battalions of volunteers have received orders to hold themselves in readiness for immediate service.

There once was a bird that lived up in a tree,
And all he could whistle was "Tiddle-dee-dee."
A very provoking, unmusical song
For one to be whistling the summer day long.
Find the bird.

AT THE PLAY HOUSES

"Leah Kleschna," in which Minnie Madden Fiske scored the triumph of her career, has been revived by the Sherman Brown Stock company at the Davidson theatre, and will be presented by that organization at the Myers Grand Opera House, Wednesday, May 27, for a single performance. The company which Manager Brown has gathered together, is the greatest ever assembled under one roof in recent years, and the work which it is accomplishing promises to go down in the annals of recent stage history as the greatest of histrionic triumphs. The cast includes Edward Mackay, Mary Hall, Theodore Roberts, Ethel Clayton, Louise Ritter, Regan Huchston, Eva Vincent, Dudley Hawley, Walter Hillebeck, Robert McWade, Jr., William Mack, Theo De Witt, W. W. Davis, and other actors of prominence. The play was staged under the personal direction of Francis Powers, the noted playwright and author, and the scenes were painted by Charles Squires especially for Mr. Brown. The last act, showing the heroine fields in the hot sun, is one of the most ever staged. The production comes to Janesville for one night only.

"A Texas Ranger," which is an old adage, but the truthful "Success waits on him who perseveres" is conspicuously displayed in the great New York recent drama of "A Texas Ranger," which visits this city next Friday, May 22, and remains for one night.

"A Texas Ranger" not only tells an absorbing story, but carries the atmosphere of old-time days, with its pretty costumes, its gallant men and its quaint comedy. The story is of real life on the western plains of the Lone Star state; it is full of comedy, and genuine pathos that cause the tears to start unbidden. It is not gloomy nor is it filled with molly-coddle heroics.

Colonel Marshall was sent out to move the Indians to their reservation in the territory, and this thing he would do, or die in the attempt. There is no power that can hinder "the firm resolve of a determined soul," and after many thrilling climaxes are passed his mission was accomplished.

The scenic effects in this production are by far more massive than is usually seen in the presentation of a western piece. The scenery and other features receive the personal attention of a corps of specialists, experts in this line. Mr. McWade carries the production completely, necessitating special baggage cars for the transportation of the same, and using nothing contained in the theatre whatever.

Variety is the spice of a minstrel performance and Al G. Field has added just the requisite variety to the required snap-in his Greater Minstrel Show this season. The second part, or olio, is enlivened with interesting specialties, one of the most notable additions to this year's production being the Five Musical Miracles, the most novel addition ever made to a minstrel show in a decade. In this particular scene the curtain closes on a stage picture of a moonlight ocean scene, showing the quarter deck of an ocean going steamship. Five nautical men in natty white uniforms appear from the companionway playing slide cornets and trombones out of which they get a volume of sound equal to a full brass band. From brass instruments they turn their attention to stringed instruments, including the mandolin, guitar, violin, cello and a new instrument in the category of orchestral effects called an aluminum harp. Another feature which must be characterized as a distinct musical novelty is an arrangement of bells, and mechanical working ratchets attached to springs, which, when turned, give out melodious notes. This particular novelty takes the form of a number of anchors which are arranged on a rack, and have the appearance of a rack of boat anchors about a man-of-war. These anchors require the combined efforts of five musicians to manipulate and the striking times they conjure with the unique device are said to please mightily. There is also a xylophone which which evokes charming melodies from out the wooden bars. The Field minstrels will appear at Myers theatre Monday, May 25.
